
MSUN Decoder Pack 2005 Crack Latest

This is a Decoder Pack not a Codec Pack. If you do DivX, XviD or 3ivX encoding this decoder pack is not for you. It is targetted for Windows Media encoding PCs. Although this decoder pack can co-exist with other codec packs, it is strongly recommended to Uninstall all other codec packs before continuing. If you still can play DivX, XviD or 3ivX files using your DirectShow player after uninstalling other codec packs, this means that the codecs are not properly unregistered. If this is the case you will have to manually unregister these codecs. What's New in the?

The MSUN decoder pack includes a file decoder, a XviD decoder and a DivX decoder. The Decoder pack comes with two installation menus, one for installing the NIV, the other for installing all the codecs. The main menu is for installing the XviD decoder. The second menu is for installing the DivX and the NIV decoders. The installation menu for XviD provides an option to install XviD filters like AC3Filter and RadLight and removes Windows media Player's xine filter. The installer is flexible as the user can choose how much time is allowed for the install. The main menu for installation of the NIV decoder pack lists NIV files as valid for this decoder pack. (even though the main menu itself will be of no help to install the codecs, it is still included in this release for the sake of completeness) Some key features: [?] Installs DirectShow filters for Windows Media encoded audio and video [?] Installs XviD and 3ivX D4 and x264 codecs [?] Codecs: DirectShow video codecs, x264 video codec, audio codecs [?] Uses a filterhost to install codecs and filters MSUN decoder pack 2005 support
