Talking E-mail Free Download [Win/Mac]

Talking E-mail is a highly customizable E-mail notifier that will enable you to listen to your incoming messages as they arrive, via animated characters. It includes a built-in configuration wizard that will have you listening to your E-mail in no time, and requires no special hardware other than a standard sound card. Talking E-mail has tons of features allowing you to specify which exact information you wish to listen to and how it is going to be presented. For example, you can decide which character will read you e-mail, it's position on your desktop, which animations or sounds to play and much more. Talking E-mail Features: You can configure the character who will read you your incoming messages; You can configure when and where your character will be displayed; The character can be a "real" character like Talking E-mail, an animated characters or just a plain pop-up window with text (see configuration settings, too); Choose between 3 different characters and animations of your choice; Playing sounds when the character is shown, or when the message is received; The entire window can be made transparent, or completely obscured by custom Windows FX; Additional improvements are included in each update of the product. Compatible with Mac OS 9, 10, Classic and Mountain Lion operating systems. Best Audio Desktop Overlay Notification: Watch VLC player and Music player overlays in any window! (e.g. Finder, Terminal or Xcode) * Now supports Mac OS X 10.5 Lion * Setup is very easy and you'll need no previous knowledge of Terminal Commands! (e.g. no knowledge of AppleScript or Shell Scripting) * This is a Full Version program and does NOT require additional Trial Version installs (e.g. no additional Program installs required). * Just download it and run it. * Even the included default presets are fully customizable. * The default presets should be suitable for 95% of people using the program, however they are not here to be a one size fits all solution. * Each preset can be tailored to the user's requirements. * E-mail Overlay Notification: If a new E-mail arrives then the E-mail Overlay will be shown! * If you don't have E-mail then you will be notified via sound and picture as soon as you open a new E-mail. * E-mail title is shown in the bottom left of the
