Â .Q: How to get session data in a sub class of Application class in Titanium (Problem with getters and setters) I want to create a separate class for session data. I tried this var Session = Ti.App.create({ id: '', _session: {} }, window); export function getSession() { Session.set('', ''); return Session.get(''); } Then in another file var sessionData = Session.get(''); I am getting this error : Uncaught Error: getters must be functions. A: The _session is a private variable that the Session object can use to store any state it wishes. If you are writing a module for someone to use that is not the module author, you should not need to access _session directly. It is used internally to "wire" the object to the window's app object. Just use the Session object in your exported functions. Medical School: Temple University School of Medicine, Philadelphia, Pa. M.S., Ph.D.: Columbia University, New York City D.A.P.T.: Columbia University, New York City. Electrophysiology, prostaglandins, and thromboxanes in vascular disease. Research Interest: I have a long-standing interest in the circulatory system in general and heart disease in particular. As a clinical neurologist, I am interested in the role of the nervous system in cardiovascular diseases, especially in the modulation of arterial and venous tone in health and disease. This includes the effects of the autonomic nervous system, as well as the effect of hormones on the cardiovascular system, particularly the potent vasodilator, nitric oxide (NO). My research has focused on studies of the effects of NO on conduit vessels (great vessels), resistance vessels (microvascular), and the nervous system.
