Despite the extinction of the Holy Empire, a brave young leader whose kingdom was divided by civil war led his people to a glorious end. Rising from the ashes of the nation's conflict, the Dragon Clan took control of the Empire and firmly established themselves as the most powerful nation in the world. Along with the revival of the Great King however, not all of the empire's people are happy. In the ancient ruins of a neighboring country, vengeful spirits of a man and a woman trapped in the Dream Fortress emerge. With a dream of revenge, they yearn to set foot on the continent and claim their rightful place in the world. 1. Field of the Invention The present invention relates to a printed circuit board and a method for manufacturing the same. More particularly, the present invention relates to a printed circuit board in which a minimum number of through-holes are required for circuit connection and a method for manufacturing the same.

2. Description of the Related Art A semiconductor chip is fabricated by a fabrication method in which a silicon wafer is repeatedly subjected to various semiconductor device fabrication processes such as a microdevice process, an impurity diffusion process, an etching process, a thin film deposition process, a washing and cleaning process, and a test process, in order to form a desired circuit pattern in a semiconductor substrate. Recently, as the degree of integration in semiconductor chips is increased, it is required that the patterns of the circuit pattern of a semiconductor chip be highly integrated. The circuit patterns are formed by using a photolithography and etching process. However, in the photolithography and etching process, a semiconductor wafer is repeatedly exposed to processes such as a photoresist coating process, a light exposure process, a development process, and a hardening process. Accordingly, the thin film deposition process, the etching process, the washing and cleaning process, etc. are used in order to reduce the thickness of the photoresist and to improve the image forming precision of a photolithography and etching process. In this case, the thin film deposition process such as a chemical vapor deposition process, a plasma vapor deposition process, a sputtering process, etc. and the washing and cleaning process are sequentially or simultaneously carried out to form a multi-layer thin film. In this process, an adhesive layer is used in order to bond the thin film deposition process and the washing and cleaning process. For example, when a multilayer thin film is formed on a semiconductor wafer by using a sputtering process, a plasma sputtering process, or a laser ablation process, various materials for thin film deposition such as aluminum (Al), titanium (Ti), molybdenum (Mo), chrome (Cr), cobalt (Co), etc., are adhered to the semiconductor wafer by using an adhesive layer such as a c9d1549cdd
