Tp-link Tl-wr340gd V5 Firmware 28

tp-link v5 firmware can enable rf switches. rf switches are included in the v5 firmware, by default, but they can also be enabled by firmware settings. some rf switches are disabled by default, but can be enabled to have specific effects. for example, the radio buttons on the pwr led and the led mode can be changed by rf switch settings. tp-link v5 firmware also allows for a smarter power saving technique.

in the v3 and v4 firmware, the tp-link device will turn off wi-fi and bluetooth if a connection is attempted and nothing is receiving or sending data. in the v5 firmware, the tp-link device will turn off wi-fi if nothing is receiving or sending data for a defined amount of time. the time period can be set using the smart power saving setting in the settings menu. tp-link v5 firmware also has some cool features for making your tp-link device more useful. the smart power saving feature, for example, can set the rf switches to be in "low power" mode automatically when the tp-link device is connected to an ethernet cable, so the tp-link device can remain connected to the internet. the firmware version 28 (14.4.13) is compatible with the following adapters: model number tl-wr340g v5 version 5 country code n chip code c mac address 00:11:22:33:44:55 broadcom bcm43142 broadcom bcm4358 broadcom bcm43602 broadcom bcm4312 there's a new (v5) firmware for the tp-link wr340gd. it also includes the latest firmware (28) for the tp-link wr1000u and the tp-link wr1000n. to download the latest firmware, go to the tp-link website. more info at the end of the post

With this TP-Link WR340N router I was never able to connect my Android box (by following the directions this web page ) it always says "error not supported" and I had to do a factory reset on the router. I tried several diff. operating system including win 8, win 7 64 bit, win 7 32 bit, ubuntu 15.10 and ubuntu 15.04. Note: If you decide to use this installer over the existing factory firmware, TP-LINK warns that you may lose data in the flash memory on your router if something goes wrong during the install. The risks can be avoided by making a backup image of your flash memory. Note: A side effect of using this flash file is that you may lose any custom firmware configuration you had. If you have made custom settings such as your specific WAN or LAN IP addresses, they will be lost. Warning: Uploading an incompatible firmware may cause the router to crash. Please fully read our updated release notes before flashing the firmware! If in any doubt contact support directly via <https://www.tplink.net/en/products/net/help-desk> Content: Reboot router to update firmware Wifi local MAC binding may be necessary after FW update WPS lacks a step, may be reassign WPS PIN Reroute IP 192.168.0.0/24 LAN to 192.168.1.0/24 wireless Improvement to admin interface TCP Control Timer for NTP synchronization may suffer from edge case GUI improvements to improve stability 5ec8ef588b
